

CaliFur Art Show Rules

Welcome to the Califur Art Show. We'd like you to invite you to put your artwork in our show. We're a new convention in Orange County, but following in the footsteps of a convention with a long Southern California history. The convention will take place May 5th through 7th of 2006, at the Holiday Inn Costa Mesa, on the other side of John Wayne airport from the terminals. You do not need to be a full member of the convention to have artwork in the show, but you do need a one if you are planning to attend and do anything more than just hang & take down your artwork. There are just a few rules, all of which are for your safety and protection.

Each 4'x 4' pegboard panel or ½ table will be $10 each. A limit of 2 panels and/or table spaces (for 3D artwork) per artist, please: we want everyone to have a chance at space. If you feel you need more, you can make a request, and we will try to accommodate you if there is space when the show opens. A 10% commission will be taken on all sales - we take care of the sales tax, of course. And please take into account the amount of artwork you wish to bring when making reservations - if you get 2 panels, and bring artwork that could only fit on 4 panels, you will be limited to only 2 panels - some of your artwork will not get hung.

Art show space cannot be reserved until payment is made - so be sure to send a cheque when you fill out your application (make your cheque out to "FurryStuff"). When your application is received, you will be assigned an artist number and be sent all the paperwork you will need.

All artwork must have accompanying paperwork with it (that is, control sheet and bid sheets). All artwork must have the artist's name, title, and the control number on it in some manner (in case the art gets separated from the bid sheet). Control and bid sheets MUST be legibly printed, and completely filled out (if we can't read your writing, then we can't send you a cheque - neither one of us wants that).

We are not really set up to accept mail-in artwork, so if you wish to mail in your artwork, please send it with someone going to the convention. While you do not need a full membership to put artwork in the show, you do need at least a supporting membership ($15).

All artwork must be by the artist showing - entries are limited to original works by the artist, and there will be no print shop. Prints may be sold in the art show, as long as there is only one print of each unique piece.

Our show will have both a general section, and also a smaller adult section. If you wish to get space in the adult section, contact the show at artshow@califur.com to see if there is space available. Remember, since you are limited to 2 panels / ½ tables in the show, you will need to reserve your panels accordingly beforehand. Since this is our first year, we will not have as large a space as we'd like, so we expect the art show to fill up quickly.

Once artwork is checked in, it cannot be removed or modified (changing a piece for sale to NFS, etc...) without the art show director's permission. If you will need to leave before the show is over, please see the director to arrange a special time to check out. Unsold art cannot be taken from the show before the auction is over without permission from the director. Unsold artwork that is left after the art show has broken down on Sunday (excepting mail-in art, of course) will be considered abandoned, and will be dealt with at the art show director's discretion (translation: Pick up your unsold art!)

To protect your artwork, please mount it carefully. Artwork that is not mounted properly cannot be accepted in the show (for liability reasons). Unless hanging devices are already on the artwork, binder clips will be used to mount the artwork to the pegboards. If you have framed artwork (no glass, please), be sure to provide a hanging wire (nail hangers will not work on the hooks). If your artwork cannot be hung safely, we will not hang it. While we will take every care with your artwork, we cannot provide insurance on it ourselves - check with your homeowner's or renter's policy to see what protection they provide. To safeguard your copyright, no use of visual recording devices (cameras or camcorders) will be permitted in the art show.

And be sure to note: the minimum bid is the minimum you will take and be happy with. We do not recommend pricing your work low with the idea that someone will certainly bid it up - they might not have the same idea you do. Sale for minimum after the auction will be allowed - you have the option to opt-out of it if you wish. 4 bids will take a piece to the voice auction.

When the show is over we will begin processing the art show paperwork ASAP. We shall try to have cheques out to artists within 3-4 weeks after the show; sooner if possible.

I hope to see you or your artwork at our show!
